

Peter Ingelse

Peter Ingelse has a wide range of experience having worked (in chronological order) as a researcher at the Universities of Groningen and Amsterdam, as an attorney, as a judge for the Amsterdam District Court and as a judge for the Amsterdam Court of Appeal. He had served as the vice-president of the Amsterdam Court of Appeal since 2001. For several years, he was the president of the preliminary relief unit at the Amsterdam Court of Appeal and from August 2009 until May 2015, he was president of the Enterprise Court (Ondernemingskamer) of the Amsterdam Court of Appeal.

During his long career as a lawyer and a judge, Peter Ingelse has gained a wide range of dispute resolution experience, not just through adjudicating disputes at law, but also through his involvement in consulting on, negotiating and arranging amicable settlements. He uses that experience in his work as a mediator, arbitrator and binding advisor. He focuses on business mediations, primarily commercial disputes and disputes between legal entities and partnerships, such as those between shareholders, between bodies within a legal entity and between works councils and legal entities.

Peter Ingelse is a member of the Committee on Whistleblowing (Commissie Misstanden) of Leiden University.

Peter Ingelse has published on a wide range of topics. The publications can be found on the following website: <https://ingel.home.xs4all.nl/publications/list-of-publications.html>.